Action in the Senate on the Paris Exposition Resolution --- No Quorum in the House-- Patterson's Speech.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Immediately after reading the journal of yester-day's proceedings, Mr. Sargent, of California, obtained the floor and asked unanimous consent to consider the House joint resolution in relation to the international industrial exposition to be held in Paris in 1878. He spoke of the necessity of immediate action on this resolution and after a brief discuss.

ion it was taken up.
Mr. Merrill, of Vermont, asked unanimous consent to have the resolution voted upon as it came from the House of Representatives and said he feared if it should be amended by the Senate it would be lost for want of time for the House of Representatives to act on them.
Mr. Cockrill, of Missouri, objected and said the resolution was bad enough as it came from the House but the Senate committee had improved it some in various amendments reported by the Senate committee on appropriations were agreed to and the joint resolution was read the third time, yeas 36, nays 20. After the passage of the Paris exposition resolution a number of bills were introduced and referred, after which the Senate resumed the Kellogg case. Saulsbury, of Delaware, spoke in favor of recommitting the subj the committee on privileges and elec-tions with instructions to take testimo-

SENATE. - The discussion of the Kellogg, Spofford case was continued. Messrs. Howe and Hill spoke elaborately of past events. The feature of the day was Patterson. He said he had already announced his intention of voting to seat M. C. Butler as Senator from South Carolina, and he would vote cheerfully to seat Wm. Pitt Kellogg as Senator from Louisiana. He had re sisted every motion to give the case of Kellogg precedence over that of Butler, because the Butler case was before the Senate first. Had the Kellogg case en brougt up first he would have voted as steadily against displacing it. He then criticized the action of the administration in withdrawing the troops from South Carolina and said the troops were withdrawn in spite of the remonstrance of those who secured the election of the President. He recognized the Democratic State Government, and turned the Republicans of South Carolina over to their enemies. He replied rather sharply to the remarks of Messrs. Edmunds and Conkling and said he re-pudiated and disowned the authority of such as these to pass judgment on his fidelity to the Republican party. He spoke of Mr. Conkling as the Achilles of the Senate and characterized the attack of Mr. Edmunds upon him (Patterson) as malignant. Referring to the indictments against him in South Carolina, he said he was ready for all these charges. He defended Gen. M. C. Butler from charges of complicity i the Hamburg massacre, and in concluding his remarks, again commented severely on the Southern policy of the ad-ministration saying he understood it as bandoning political friends to conciliate his political foes. He ridiculed the idea of reviving the old whig party and said if the President could go down into the political valley of dry bones and Graphic Description --- The Mighty Rush of Waters-Scenes and Incidents--- A Gala Day-Court Week.

[Special Correspondence of the News] FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 28. On Friday night, none of our people expecting such a rise, as we had not had rains sufficient to justify it, the river rains sufficient to justify it, the river here commenced rising rapidly and all day Saturday the water came rushing down, bearing on its surface timber, wood, cattle and all manner of farm products, indicating that above us a mighty stream was pouring down. You know that the banks of the river here are, say, some 50 feet high, and just above town two creeks (Cross Creek and Blount) coming together empty into the Blount) coming together empty into the Cape Fear. The banks of these creeks are also high and sharp, and within one mile of the mouth are saw mills, grist mills, &c. By Saturday evening the banks were unable to hold the water, but the fields on either side were cover-ed, mills were overflowed and the one nearest the river was completely sub-merged, and the water had backed over the dam of Cool Spring mill, and was backing on the "Merchant's Mill," owned by our worthy Senator, W. C.

Troy, and located in the centre of the town; but still no one thought much of it. But during the night of Saturday THE MIGHTY TORRENT came full upon us. The Clarendon Bridge spans the river here, and is the only bridge that is over the river excepthe railroad bridge above Wil mington. During the night the denizens of lower Fayetteville heard a tremendous crash and in a few moments Campbellton was alive with men women and children rushing towards the bridge, thinking that that valuable structure was going to pieces. They found however it was only bridge from above on Haw or Deep River, that had come down the stream and had struck the middle pier of the

A VAST SEA OF WATER was before them. Flat boats had broke loose and gone, and the fine steamer "Juniper" that had been left the evening before, it was thought securely tied, was no where to be seen. Divers speculation were made about her, some thought she had been covered, and others that she would be found below either in the fields or in the trees With no hand to guide her wheel and no engineer to control her speed, she, with her load of rosin and cotton was making for the sea shore. The up-boats from Wilmington, some sixteen miles from here, saw a steamer bearing rapidly upon them, and, with risk to them-selves, stopped her and brought her back for the balance of her load which, in her hurry, she had forgotten to take. Sunday the flood was at its height, and our people flocked to the banks to watch and wonder as the mighty stream was rushing by. All the warehouses at the hill had to be emptied, and bags of guano, flour, bacon, rosin, turpentine, lay in one confused mass. The water was now seething, boiling and eddying, each drop using its utmost endeavor t push its neighbor out of its way. Pumpkins were whirling by, and boatmen here have enough to supply the State for this season.

Every person during the day that could walk, hire or beg a vehicle, wended their way to Campbellton, and as the damage done here was compara-tively slight (the lowlands having been covered twice before this, and all the damage done that could be done to the crops), it was more

A GALA DAY than otherwise. Up town in the creeks the water was not held by the banks, and even Cool Spring mill had four feet of water on its lower floor.
With the exception of the rise known here in common parlance as the "Sherman flood," it is the highest that we have had for years.

I can hear of no damage to bridges in this county. We have been so subject to overflows that we have profited by experience, and all our bridges are built Twenty colored men were drowned in the flood at Buchanan, Va. The Y. M. C. A., of Savannah, doesn' institution in that State. Fully seven hundred thousand gallon of oysters will be shipped from Norfolk during the present season. The negroes in Upson county, Ga. nominated one and the same man for

At Shreveport last week three Jews suspected of setting fire to a warehouse were arrested and roughly handled, but upon legal investigation were acquitted. The affair has caused intense excitethey held public meetings to discuss the outrage.

The Norfolk Landmark says of the flood in the Roanoke: "Millions of bushels of corn in crops ungathered are destroyed, while the amount of stock, er, wood and other property is too great to estimate. It is safe to say the whole Roanoke region has suffered urparalleled devastation."

The employees of the Atlantic, Mis sissippi and Ohio railroad all along the line have been paid off for the month of October. They also received their back wages, such as had not been assigned, for November, 1875. This leaves only four months of back wages unpaid.

A Charleston, S. C., paper speaks of a sale of farm lands in that vicinity, only two miles from the Northeast railroad and Wedbin river, and of excellent soil. Six hundred and twenty-eight acres were sold for $205, eight hundred acres for $220, one hundred acres for $38, all half cash, and the rest in one year.

The negro Dick Ross was sentenced to be hung at Lonoke, Ark., Friday, and 2,500 persons assembled to witness the execution. Ross confessed the murder, the noose was adjusted and the trap about to drop when the telegraph operator rushed in with a reprieve from the Governor for ten days. Ross smiled and all the others swore.

The steady manner in which the Mississippi river has washed away and is washing sundry and various towns and landings, or left them inland, is specially noted by the Natchez Telephone. St. Joseph and Rodney have have her left island. Westerproof is being phone. # Capt. J. J. Guthrie.

The Norfolk Landmark says of Capt. J. J. Guthrie who was lost at the wreck of the Huron:

He was a native of North Carolina having been born in Raleigh; and had had a sword of honor voted him by that and distinction in the navies of the Union and of the Confederacy, and recently had entered on the dis his duties in connection with the Life-

The Landmark is mistaken as to the nativity of Capt. Guthrie. John Julius Guthrie was the son of Dr. John Guthrie, of Washington, N. C., where he was born about the year 1814, and was therefore in his 63d year at the time of his death. His father died when he was quite a boy, and he came to this city with his widowed mother, who died here and is buried in the old cemetery. He was placed under the care of Rev. Dr. William McPheeters, and went to school to this distinguished preacher and educator at the Raleigh Academy. Early in life he entered the United States navy, and when the war broke out cast his fortunes with the Confederacy.

He at one time commanded the Ad. vance, owned by North Carolina, and used in running the blockade. He was also in command at Halifax, in this State, when the Confederate and North Carolina authorities were building vessels there on the Roanoke. At other times during the war he commanded at Eufaula, Alabama, and at other points in the South.

A more gallant officer or a purer man never walked the deck of a ship. His untimely end is a great loss to the United States signal service, and is deeply lamented by the citizens of Norfolk and Portsmouth, if we may judge from the expressions contained in their newspa-

In reply to many enquiries as to the name of our Washington correspondent, whose letters in the News every Sunday morning have attracted wide spread ttention and approbation, we feel at liberty only to say that he is a distinguished and popular citizen of this city, at present sojourning at the National Capital. The style and composiment among that class of citizens, and tion of the articles proclaim the facile pen and genial soul of one of the best known writers in the State.

THE Virginia Methodist Conference has elected Rev. W. W. Bennett President of Randolph Macon College, vice Rev. James A. Duncan, deceased. Dr. Bennett is one of the editors of the Richmond Christian Advocate, and one of the ripest scholars in his Conference. His election it is claimed will give great satisfaction to the friends of the Coll ge.

SENATOR PATTERSON made a lively speech in Congress yesterday. He gave it to Conkling and Edmunds, and rapped President Hayes severely for his southern policy. He spoke in high terms of General M. C. Butler-who stands between the Senator and the Penitentiary just now. Patterson is evidently determined to hold out for Butler.

PRESIDENT HAYES will on Monday, t is said, send in a message to Congres expressing his views on the pending financial questions. He is supposed to Silver.

HAYWOOD, CHATHAM Co., N. C.
November 28th, 1877.
To Editors of the News:
Haw River was 12 inches higher at this place on Saturday last than the great freshet of August, 1867. At one time it was feared that the county bridge at this place would be swep away by the surging waters, but it defied the angry waves. The bridges at Pace's Mills and Bynum Factory were floated down stream and considerable damage was done to the bridges at Henley's & Moore's Mills on the same river. No serious damage on Deep iver. > Patterson's Account of His Election to the Senate.

Washington Correspondence of the Pitts-burgh Telegraph.] He tells the story of his election to the Senate in a very agreeable style, with all allusion to the bribery and corruption of members, of course, left out. He says that Governor Scott was very confident of an election, and Elliott, too thought his chances good. On the night before the election he, however, succeeded in getting nearly all the members of the dark-hued Legislature together at his house, and provided them with a banquet. The darkies, he said, must have music, and he had a seng written specially for their edification on the ocasion, the chorus of which ran thus:

And we'll vote for honest John, And we'll vote for honest John, And we'll send him to "de Sinit," For six years long. The nigh was spentt in eating, drinking, singing this song, and getting ready for next day's business. Just before the time for the convening of the Legisla-ture, the black column moved toward the State House with Patterson at the head. "I didn't like to do it," he said, but a man gets hardened in war, and we marched up the Capitol steps like a conquering army. Elliott and Scott stood by. The 'nigger' turned white, and Scott's knees smote together like

The Infirmities of Age The Infirmities of Age

Are harder to bear than the allments of middle life or youth, since the resistant power in the system has diminished with declining years, and disease and pain have more power over the enfeebled body. It is therefore the more essential that the resistant power should be augmented. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a benign tonic cordial, is admirably adapted for the purpose. It counteracts the infirmitles peculiar to age, and succors worn out nature. It vivifies the feeble frame, adds new oil, as it were, to the flickering lamp of life, diffuses fresh warmth through the chilled veins, and gives comfort as well as relief, thus lightening the burden of age and retarding in a measure the progress of deeay. Laddes in delicate health, as well as aged persons, derive great benefit from this wholesome stimulative tonic, which is absolutely pure, unobfectionable in flavor, and is recommended by

SAMUET, T. SKIDNORE, President. HKNRI A. OAKLEY, Vice President Insures Against Loss or Damage by Fire

FOR POLICIES APPLY TO W. H. CROW, LOCAL AGENT.

An Open Letter to the Public NEW Youk, October 1, 1877. I hav devoted twen years of patient study to the Liver and its relations to the human body, in search of a remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal refeition. The result of that labor has been the production of TUTTT'S LIVER PILLS.

Their popularity has become so extended and the demand so great as to induce unscrupu-lous parties to counterfeit them, thereby ROBBING ME of the reward, and the afflicted of their virtues. To Caution the Public and proter them from vile impositions, aave adop ed a new label, which bears my trade-mark and notice of its entry in the Of-fice of the Libracian of Congress, also my signature, thus; West Sutt M. G.

TO COUNTERPEIT THIS IS FORGERY. Before purchasing, examine the label THE GENUINE TUTT'S PILLS exert a peculiar influence on the system. Their action is prompt, and their good effects are felt in a few hours. A quarter of a century of the study of the Liver has demonstrated that it exerts a greater influence over the system than any other or gan of the body, and when diseased the entire organism is deranged. It is specially for the healing of this vital organ that I have spent so many years of toil, and having found the remedy, which has proved the greatest boon ever furnished the afflicted. Shall they be deprived of its benefits, and a vile imitation imposed upon them?

Two widowers in Perry county, Texas, have each a daughter, and each has married the other's daughter. The possible snarl in relationships in these families in the future is appalling in its magnitude.

The printed reports of the marriage of Henry Fitz Allan Howard, Duke of Norfolk, to Lady Hastings, remind the St. Paul Pioneer Press of Pope's lines: "What can enoble. fools, or sots, or cowards, Alas! not all the blood of all the Howa ds."

Senator Whyte, of Maryland, expresspass the Senate, but it is scarcly proba-ble that the Anti-resumption act will go through. As for himself, he says, he purposes to vote against both of these asures, and is rather certain that Dr. Dennis, the other Senator from Maryland, will act in the same way.

The Philadelphia Times of Tuesday contains a touching tribute from the pen of John W. Forney to the memory of Mrs. Matilda S. McClure, the wife of Col. A. K. Mrs. McClure was forty-one years old, was married when only sixteen years of age, and is described as having been a lady rich in graces and mind.

The NEWS reporter desires publicly to acknowledge his obligation to Judge Strong and all the officers of his court for courtesies received at their hands and facilities afforded for getting the re ports of proceedings, especially in the Mooningham case, which, owing to the vast crowds that packed the court house, would have been difficult but for the fa vor of the Court and officers.

United States Circuit Court. FRIDAY, Nov. 30.

There was but one case of any importance hefore this tribunal yesterday, that of the United States vs. 103 boxe of tobacco and other property, claimed by Wm. A. Bebbitt of Granville county Only one witness was examined when prosecution and a verdict was given in favor of the claimant. Several cases were called and continued and others set for trial on special days. The Flood in Scotland Neck.

We learn by a private letter from Scotland Neck, Halifax county, that Roanoke was higher there by three feet than ever before known. The farms on the river in that section, embracing those of Messrs. R. H. Smith, J. N. Smith, Gen. David Clark, Col. Walter Clark and several others, were submerged and greatly damaged.

What the Court Did.

The Criminal Court, just closed, tried sixty-two cases, of which fifty-two were convicted on trial or submission, and ten declared not guilty. The Court sat fifteen days, of which four were occu-pied in the Mooningham trial. The fines imposed amounted to between $400 and $500, which will go a good way toward paying the expense of the Court

The lecture of Gov. Vance upon the subject of the "Demagogue" was de-livered at Tucker Hall on Thursday evening before a very cultivated audience, who evinced by their applause their appreciation of the pleasure which was afforded them.

The Governor was in one of his happiest moods, and held his hearers in closest attention during the course of the address, which seemed too short.

The speaker alluded to the real meaning of the word "Demagogue," and of its perversion. Formerly the word was only applied to a "leader of the people" -one who was worthy to lead, whereas at present it was applied as a term of opprobrium to those politicians who sought by the exercise of the basest of arts and arguments to sway the minds of men, and make them serve as step ping stones to their own advancement In a monarchical form of government the courtier, flattering the ruler or those highest in power, endeavors always to further his own ends, while in the re public the "demagogue" (using the term in its present sense) flatters those who are his inferiors, wishing to be borne into positions of emolument and power

The republican, while the strongest form of government, yet contains, per haps, more elements of weakness than any other, because of the liberty of speech and the freedom of the press, which when used rightly are the bulwarks of liberty, yet may b perverted to the worst of uses.

The usual current of wit and humor ran sparklingly through the discourse, and the relation of sundry election an-ecdotes and various allusions to the humorous side of Southern Politics, conrulsed the audience The proceeds of the lecture are to be applied toward the erection of a church edifice for the congregation of the Sec ond Presbyterian Church of this city.

For the information of those concern ed we republish the following circular from the State Auditor's office, in regard to the manner of drawing the tate appropriations for the support of the insane outside of the Asylum.

AUDITORS DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, Nov. 30, 1877. -Chairman Board of Cammissioners

--- County: Sir.—Yours of the—inst., concerning the maintenance of lunatics prior to the passage of the last "Act of the General Assembly in relation to the maintenance of lunatics out side of the Insane Asylum," ratified March 12th, 1877, is at hand. I am unable at present to answer your question further than to say, I presume i will be a matter of legislation for the next General Assembly. As the case now stands, however, I can only audit claims of that character under the Act of March 12th, 1877, consequently no claim for the maintenance of Lunatics outside of the Insane Asylum can be audited until January 1st, 1878, dating in no case anterior to the passage of the Act, March 12th, 1877. For instance those who were insane before and at the time of the passage of the last Act allowed support by the State from that date to the 1st of Janury, 1878, at the rate $100 per annum. Those who have become insane since the 12th of March, 1877, are allowed support at the same rate, from the date of the inquision declaring them insane but no claim of this character can be audited until January 1st, 1878.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Washington, D. C., Nov. 10, 1876. I take great pleasure in certifying to the efficacy of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, in use in my family and as a specific fo colds of children or adults. I have found it to be a cure almost immediate and always permanent.—Very respectfully, Thos. B. PRICE. Statement from Mr, Tomlidson. DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 29, 1877.

To the Editor of the News: I notice in the DAILY NEWS of No vember 24th, 1877, an interview between your reporter and Mr. Gudger, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, in which my name appears along with Messrs. Cook and Palmer. I am therein charged by Mr. Nichols with having obtain family supplies from the institution without paying for the same. I presume he made the statement merely on supposition; but if he has been informed to that effect by some one, the said informant was in error, and stated what was not true, either ignorantly or other-Perhaps three or four times in the course of two years, the steward bought some few articles of provision for me, but in every instance I paid the cash for them. Being a State institution, I was the more careful to receive nothing from it without paying for the same, except a broom now and then from the broom shop, which, I was informed, had been a custom ever since its establishment. Many of the brooms made by pupils just learning the trade were unmerchantable, and such were the kind used in the institution generally.

I think it proper the Principal should be furnished what he needs to keep that part of the Institution buildings clean. more than paid for everything I ever eceived from the Institution.
The following letter received from Mr.

Gudger, Principal, confirms the above

Effect of a State of War on In surance Policies Non-Payment of Premiums not Excused.

The Supreme Court of the United States, on Nov. 26, rendered the following important decision: No. 44, New York Life Insurance Company vs. Davis.—Error to the Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Virginia,-In this case it is held that the stipulation in policies of insurance that all receipts for premiums paid at agencies are to be signed by the presi-dent and actuary of the company fur-nishes no ground for assuming that the place of payment of the premium is the residence or place of business of the agent, but that the place of payment is on this subject (March 12th, 1877,) are the home office of the company, and that as war suspends all commercial intercourse, between citizens of belligerent countries or States, no active busi ness can be maintained either personally or by correspondence or through an agent by the citizen of one belligerent with the citizens of the other. Hence the outbreak of the war determined any existing insurance agency in the South for Northern companies, and the tender of the payment of premiums to such agencies after the commencement of the war was a void act and had no effect to continue the policy in force to give the of the war. Reversed. Mr. Justice

Bradley delivered the opinion. An Incident in the History of

The Seaboard and Roanoke Railroa bridge which was washed off by the refirst at that place that has met with the same fate. In January, 1863, during the time of a high flood in the river, train of cars having on board a brigade of Confederate soldiers passed over the bridge. Capt. R. A. Shotwell, now editor in chief of the Farmer and Mechanic, in this city, was in command of a company in the brigade, and as the last coach of the train reached the bank on the north side of the river, those in it perceptibly felt the bridge give way slightly under them. The train passed over safely, but before it reached Garysburg, two miles off, the entire structure of the bridge gave way and was carried down the stream. This was a narrow escape; had it fallen a few minutes earlier, twenty-five hundred men would have been struggling in the water as it boiled over the fails below.

Enterprise---Pluck.

Few men of this day have exhibited as much pluck and enterprise in business as D. Tutt, of New York, the proprietor of Tutt's Liver Pills. In a few years he has built up a business of vast proportions and made his name a house-hold word all over the land.—advertising agents say that he has paid the press this year over one hundred thous-and dollars, and that the demand for his medicines is enormous, both in foreign countries and at home. The New York papers report the shipment from that port in one day of a "ton of Tutt's Pills." Think of it: two thous-and pounds of Pills. From this great uccess our merchants and manufacturers may learn a useful lesson. If they have an article of true merithumbug-let everybody know it through the medium of printer's ink, and success is sure. It is true it requires pluck, but "none but the brave deserve the fair." As has always heretofore been the case with this staunch old weekly, the JOURNAL in politics will represent none but the soundest and truest Democraric principles, faithful to the traditions of that party, steady to its present principles and unforgetful of the great fraud by virtue of which a Republican administration assumes the duties of the position fairly won by the Democratic party. Our market reports will be a prominet part of the paper and will present the most valuable points of transactions up to the very hour of going to press, while especial care and attention will be paid to the cultorial, news and miscellaneous departments. One of the most prominent features of the paper will be its agricultural department, and on this, which will be placed in the hands of a gentleman well qualified to man age it, experience as well_as care will be brought to bear.

The WILMINGTON JOURNAL will be published from the office of the Daily Review every Thursday aftern on at $1.50 a year.
